

It has been wonderful these last months not being interrupted by a telemarketer during our evening meals. Before Indiana's privacy law, we would receive 10-12 calls per week. Under no circumstances should you allow my privacy to be interrupted during family time.

Sincerely,

Tom Brown